

Contents

Josef Trappel & Tales Tomaz Preface	7
Chapter 1 Josef Trappel & Tales Tomaz Democratic performance of news media: Dimensions and indicators for comparative studies	11
Chapter 2 Tim Dwyer, Derek Wilding, & Tim Koskie Australia: Media concentration and deteriorating conditions for investigative journalism	59
Chapter 3 Manuela Grünangerl, Josef Trappel, & Tales Tomaz Austria: Confirmed democratic performance while slowly digitalising	95
Chapter 4 Marko Ala-Fossi, John Grönvall, Kari Karppinen, & Hannu Nieminen Finland: Sustaining professional norms with fewer journalists and declining resources	153
Chapter 5 Christine Horz-Ishak & Barbara Thomass Germany: Solid journalistic professionalism and strong public service media	197
Chapter 6 Hanne Vandenberghe & Leen d'Haenens The Netherlands: On media concentration and resilient freelance journalists	257

Chapter 7
Joaquim Fidalgo
Portugal: Impoverished media struggling for survival	297
Chapter 8
Lars Nord & Torbjörn von Krogh
Sweden: Continuity and change in a more fragmented media landscape	353
Chapter 9
Heinz Bonfadelli & Werner A. Meier, in collaboration with Michael Schanne
Switzerland: Highly concentrated leading news media in austerity and downsizing mode	381
Chapter 10
Martin Moore & Gordon Ramsay
United Kingdom: Economic challenges, market consolidation and increasing professional insecurity	455